REAL ESTATE FOR DOG LOVERS

MCENEARNEY ASSOCIATES, INC. REALTOR®

If there's one thing dog owners can agree on, it's this: Pets are family. Realtor Lisa Groover of McEneaney Associates, who focuses on the Alexandria market, understands pets are valued members of the home and that when homebuyers are looking for their next house, it needs to be pet friendly.

"As the lucky parent of nine golden retrievers since moving to Alexandria in 1989, my clients have found that working with someone who understands your dog is part of the family makes a difference when it comes to the challenges of finding the right home for themselves and their dogs," Groover says, whose client base of buyers and sellers is made up of over 60% dog owners.

Her niche expertise has gained Groover a record-breaking sales volume over the past two years, and she has been featured as a dog-friendly real estate expert for buyers, sellers and renters on "The Pet Show with Dr. Katy," as well as in multiple local publications and on several radio shows and podcasts.

Moving into 2022, Groover expects the market to continue at its current competitive pace. For sellers specifically, she says, "The first two weeks of being on the market are the most important, so being the 'cutest puppy in the litter' remains a motto to live by."

With Groover by their side, any dog-loving homebuyer or seller will be met with success, no matter what the market brings. To find out more, visit the dog-friendly section of Groover's website at lisagroover.com.
